

Writing as Art, Editing & Publishing

Tuesday, December 18th, 2018, 3:00 - 5:00 pm

Gibsonville Public Library, 506 Church Street
Gibsonville, North Carolina 27249

This public event is free and features the books:
Writing as Art, Editing & Publishing and Blue Mountain Highway Home
By Wayne H. Drumheller, Editor and Founder
The Creative Short Book Writers Project

This invitation is to parents, teachers, students or anyone who has ever wanted to write a book, and didn't know where to start. The workshop is designed for aspiring and experienced writers. During the workshop, attendees will learn how to write a book introduction, legal copyright page, design a book cover, and publish a book at a reasonable cost that sells. It will take attendees through the 'pages, stages and phases' of writing, editing and publishing a book in any category or age group including: non-fiction, fiction, memoir, faith-base, romance, poetry, children stories, art, photography, and/or other books. The event will feature local authors who published and sold books in 2018, as a result of local library and coffee shop workshops.

To register for the Tuesday, December 18th workshop contact:
Jessica Arnold, Librarian at: jarnold@gibsonville.net or 336-449-6455
For information contact; waynedrumheller.hd@gmail.com.

The workshop is designed for students and adults.

Sponsored by the Gibsonville Public Library & The Creative Short Book Writers Project

